Bank to Bend

The annual Bank to Bend lecture is named for Winterthur's signature March Bank display of early bulbs and perennials. Henry Francis du Pont and other family members used to look for the earliest bulbs on the slope to the north of the house, where the heart of this display occurs. They called the path along the slope "from bank to bend." The Winterthur Garden and Landscape Society (WGLS) underwrites this annual lecture and is responsible for funding the recent restoration of the March Bank.
